US Liner Improves Reefer Trailer Scuff at No Additional Charge

CRANBERRY TOWNSHIP, PA – US Liner Company (USLCO), the world leader in engineered reinforced composite materials, is excited to announce it will be transitioning in May 2014 to an improved refrigerated trailer scuff.

“We are always listening to customer feedback and responding” said Jeff Meek, Vice President of Sales and Marketing for US Liner. “We never stay in status quo and constantly challenge our team. This is one simple example of building on the best.”

The new USLCO reefer scuff layup will feature a cargo facing layer of woven Bulitex for improved impact resistance and abrasion resistance as well as utilizing same stain resistant surface film found on the walls, for improved cosmetics and easier cleanability.

Michael LaRocco, President & CEO for US Liner states, “Customers will not have to make any changes as the part numbers will remain the same. The best news is this product improvement will be provided at NO additional charge!”
